

School Intervention Programme (Turn Up, Don't Give Up)

Engagement of Volunteer Youth Mentors

TERMS OF REFERENCE

The delivery of monthly motivational sessions to students of forms 1 - 3 at 26 identified schools in Trinidad from September to December 2022

BACKGROUND

Recognizing the need to provide support to students who scored less than 50% in the Secondary Entrance Assessment (SEA) in 2022, the Ministry of Education (MOE) implemented a Vacation Revision Programme (VRP) at thirty-three (33) schools across Trinidad during the July-August vacation period to enhance key competencies in fundamental areas. Support was also provided to students and parents via the Student Support Services Division (SSSD). To expand this element of the programme, the MOE piloted an 'edutational' caravan themed "Turn Up, Don't Give Up" aimed at inspiring students to stay the course and push forward despite whatever academic, social or economic challenges they currently face. The goal of the caravan was to empower students, give them hope and expose them to opportunities within their communities.

Based on the success and lessons learnt, a similar approach is proposed for roll out for the academic year 2022-2023 in the twenty-six (26) schools of the School Intervention Programme. The overarching goal being to provide the primary target audience i.e. students in Forms 1 to 3 with additional support and guidance from mentors through inspirational/motivation sessions as well as provide them with information to inform positive behaviour and actions. The proposed programme must however be aligned to the work and messaging of the Student Support Services Division. The duration of the Phase 1 of the programme is one academic year with sessions being delivered once be month to each form class/cohort.

This phase of the programme seeks to invite Volunteer Youth Mentors to work with the MOE and more specifically the Guidance and Counselling and Social Work Divisions to support the positive behaviour management goals in the twenty-six schools of focus.
